

Deployment and Maintenance

Deployment is the process of publishing a website on the internet. It includes uploading files to a web server and configuring domain settings. Maintenance involves regular updates, security checks, and performance monitoring. This chapter covers hosting options, FTP, and best practices for maintaining a website after launch. Proper deployment and maintenance are essential for a website's long-term success.