

JavaScript Basics

JavaScript is a programming language that adds interactivity to websites. It allows for dynamic content, such as form validation, animations, and responsive navigation. JavaScript basics include variables, functions, and event handling. In this chapter, we introduce JavaScript fundamentals, covering basic syntax and functions that allow interaction with web pages. Understanding JavaScript is essential for making websites interactive.